DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 12,13,15,16,17 and 19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. patent 4,301,651 to Cocchiara et al.. The Cocchiara elbow as shown in figs. 12 and 13 (see below) illustrates the present invention with a cylindrical body and tangential inlets and outlets wherein the body includes a liner 40 and the inlets and outlets also include liners 42. The liners can be removed by any number of means.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 14,18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. patent 4,301,651 to Cocchiara et al. in view of U.S. patent 4,554,721 to Carty et al. As noted above the Cocchiara et al. elbow discloses the claimed invention with the exception of the liner being made of stainless steel and not ceramic as required by claims 14,18 and 20. Carty et al. teaches an elbow with a ceramic liner (column 2, lines 50-55) for wear resistance of the fluids on the elbow body. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to fabricate the liner from ceramic rather than stainless steel as ceramic would be desirable for reasons of both cost and weight and further since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.
